A POWERFUL ALLIANCE

The Greater Beloit Economic Development Corporation (GBEDC) was officially organized in 2005 as a result of the merger of the Beloit Economic Development Advisory Council and the Beloit Economic Development Corporation.

This alliance of non-profit organizations focuses on competitive and prosperous growth throughout the region. The GBEDC works with companies that are interested in investing in the community and retaining or creating new jobs, and encourages existing companies to expand while attracting new businesses.

AN INVESTOR ORGANIZATION

GBEDC investors are the region's largest stakeholders and strongest community-minded businesses that strive to foster growth in the Greater Beloit area. As a public/private partnership, the GBEDC's investors are comprised of local governments, small and large employees, professional service and retail businesses, community organizations, and private individuals in the Greater Beloit area.

OUR FOCUS

Workforce Development Business Retention

Incentive Packaging Marketing

Business Recruitment
Available Buildings/Sites Inventory

The GBEDC provides value-added services tailored to meet the needs of investors and the community.
